

Nepal's Prime Minister Ousted Following No-Confidence Vote

On 12 July, Nepal's Prime Minister Pushpa Kamal Dahal was Ousted after 19 months in power following a No Confidence Vote. A total of 194 lawmakers voted against him, while 63 supported him. Dahal opted for the vote rather than resigning after the Communist Party of Nepal (Unified Marxist Leninist) withdrew support on 3 July.

The CPN-UML and NepaliCongress (NC) claim their Alliance aims to Stabilize politics and amend the Electoral System, though many believe it's to sideline Corruption Investigations. Since December 2022, Dahal led a FragileCoalition, seeking votes of confidence five times due to Internal Disagreements.

The President will now call for a New Government formation. An Agreement between CPN- UML and NC suggest alternating 18 MonthTerms until the 2027 General Election. Reports indicate CPN-UML may head nine ministries, including Finance, while NC may lead 10 ministries, including Home Affairs. This power-sharing deal will challenge Nepal's hashtag
